

London Hand Therapy

Hand Therapist Vacancy

London Hand Therapy is a leading private practice with three prime London locations. We require an enthusiastic Hand Therapist who is open to learning, has a creative approach to care and is committed to excellence.

We are looking for a part-time or full-time therapist to work within a multi-disciplinary team treating patients with a variety of upper limb, shoulder and neck conditions. The clinic is highly respected in the area of sports and performing arts medicine and you will have the opportunity to work with world class athletes and artists.

Applicants must be a Band 7 or above Occupational Therapist or Physiotherapist with hand therapy experience. Treatment skills for cervical and thoracic spine conditions and splinting experience are highly desirable but not essential.
